I definitely agree that your writing techniques and lessons were the key to passing the California Bar Exam. That, and a lot of hard work and a dedication to passing. Please feel free to use me as a reference. – Scott Jordan, Esq.

Law schools and most bar review courses simply teach you the law necessary to pass. Few, however, teach you the requisite skills needed to pass the nation’s toughest bar exam.

California’s pass rate is extremely low because of the written response portion of the exam. In California, when it comes to the essays, the graders are looking for issues spotted and analysis. In most other jurisdictions, the graders are simply looking for issues spotted; there is little emphasis on analysis in other jurisdictions.

Professor Jeff Cancilla, Esq., who passed 6 bar exams on his first attempt, including California’s, is in charge of student mentoring and product development for Barperfect.

“Superior writing skills are required to pass California’s bar exam,” he told the Law Student Journal in a 2006 article. “In New York, a candidate has 30 minutes to craft an essay response, which necessarily implies the emphasis is on issue spotting. In California, however, a candidate has an entire hour to respond to a fact pattern, which necessarily implies the emphasis is on both issue spotting and analysis. With that extra half hour, you’d better demonstrate the ability to analyze.”

That is where Barperfect comes in.
We teach you precisely how to craft an essay response for the California bar exam.

Of course, we do more than that.

We teach you how to weave your way through a Performance Test with superior data management and case comparison techniques.

And we teach you how to get to the heart of an MBE question in a matter of seconds to increase your chances of a correct response. Always picking the wrong choice when you get it down to two? We have a technique in place that helps you pick the right choice more than not.

A new standard in California bar review.

Barperfect has been helping candidates with the California bar exam since 1994. We have superior expertise. We are a California-specific program. We are not a mass-produced program that attempts to be an expert in all 50 states.

On that note, there are big courses out there that do not acknowledge the unique writing style required to pass the California bar exam. Their model answers for the New York bar exam serve simultaneously as model answers for the California bar exam!

We are not a mass-produced course.
Sitting in a crowded lecture hall passively listening to law lectures is *not the best way to spend your time.

Nor are 10-hour days sitting in the library memorizing black-letter law.

Our approach is an activity-rich, personalized approach. Whether you are on-line client or in-office client, you will receive personalized guidance and individualized mentoring throughout our activity-rich process.

Our Activity Schedule, designed by a former ABA Faculty Tutor, includes a series of assignments and activities that are designed to get your legal knowledge and skills in place so that you sit for the California bar exam confident and skillful. All of your writing assignments are graded by former bar graders.

Thanks for the feedback on the Contracts essays. It showed me how I wasn't sufficiently connecting the dots. Now I get it!"– Montsi M., Esq.

Our materials and process were designed with legal knowledge and skill-enhancement in mind.

All of our materials are interactive, even our legal knowledge materials. You will never be asked to simply stare at a black-letter law outline. Instead, you will learn the law by working with the law. You will learn the law by working through our Legal Knowledge Q&As. You will learn the law by reading through our Issue Commentaries and Selected Answers, as it is always better to learn the law in the context of a factual scenario. Our process is a layering process, if you will, and all activities will have a cumulative effect on both your legal knowledge and skill-enhancement.

By the way, if you already have legal-knowledge materials that you feel comfortable with, you can use those black-letter outlines throughout our process instead of our Legal Knowledge Q&As.

Be prepared for our process.

Our process is not passive. It is activity-rich and requires discipline, focus and commitment.

You promised me that you could get me over the hump, and you were right. The writing-formula exercises, PT approach, and your predictions, were golden. I also can't thank you enough for the pep talks during the bar. Those talks helped me maintain my focus. Thanks again, and know that I will spread the word about Barperfect.— Mike Elliott, Esq.

ULTIMATE FEEDBACK I

WRITING & LAW ONLINE TUTORIAL BAR REVIEW

Regularly ~~$4,175.00~~ NOW $3,475.00

Obviously, our online bar review students do not have to drive anywhere. You can study wherever you want. In your pajamas, if that's your style.

You can have any and all of your questions answered quickly, and without having to raise your hand. (Do the mass-produced bar review courses even allow you to raise your hand?) We are an e-mail away.

We provide you with what we call an Activity Schedule. When all activities are completed, you will be fully prepared to operate at your highest skill level when it comes time to take the bar exam.

And we provide you with proprietary analytical writing formulas, proprietary performance test techniques and proprietary MBE techniques. Additionally, we provide you with proprietary Interactive Outlines, Interactive Writing Workshops and Essay Bundles. Naturally, we provide you with suggested answers to all of our essays and performance tests.

Since Barperfect is an activity-oriented bar review, we invite all candidates to issue spot 70 essays and actually write 28 of those essays. Plus, we invite you write at least 4 performance tests. All of your submitted efforts are critiqued by our staff of former bar graders. (All of your efforts must be submitted in either a Word or WordPerfect file, or within the body of an e-mail.)

You will receive feedback that earmarks your strengths and weaknesses. Feedback that might ask you to rewrite something until you get it just right. No cursory, template-oriented feedback - we read each and every word of everything you write.

Throughout the entire bar review process and whenever you want, you can e-mail us your questions . . . about the law? . . . a particular essay or performance test? . . . an MBE question or answer? . . . one of your critiques? (An occasional phone call is not a problem, but if you feel you will be in need of more personal interaction, either in person or via telephone, the "Study Partner" program may be a better choice for you.)
